

The doors open at 6:15pm, September 21, at Tigges Farm.

Bring the whole family for an evening of inspirational music "signed" by the Hands In Praise Christian Sign Language Choir.

The benefit will be for two non-profits:

Weld Food Bank www.weldfoodbank.org to help feed Weld County hungry, and Colorado Hands and Voices www.co-hv.org to provide support and resources for parents of deaf children from birth through high school.

There will be contemporary praise and all time favorite hymns and you are welcome to join by "singing" along. The list of songs to be "signed" include:

- "Here We Are" as recorded by Dallas Holm
- "You Raise Me Up" as recorded by Josh Groban
- "All To Jesus/I Surrender All" as recorded by Robin Mark
- "Amazing Grace/My Chains Are Gone" as recorded by Chris Tomlin
- "Jesus Messiah" as recorded by Chris Tomlin
- "Healing Rain" as recorded by Michael W. Smith
- "The Lord's Prayer" as recorded by Andrea Bocelli

Tigges Farm is a free admission farm and that goes for the concert too. Although food and tax deductible donations for the non-profits will be appreciated. Representatives of both non-profits will be available after the concert if you want to visit more about how you can help in various ways.

Come rain or shine as the event center is covered and enclosed, yet has an open air feeling. Directions to the farm (12404 County Road 64 1/2 Greeley, CO 80631) are on the Tigges Farm Website www.TiggesFarmLLC.com

Visit www.HandsInPraiseASL.com and learn more about the choir and how you can become a member of the choir. No experience is necessary.
